If you do need something else, however, take a look at our other top 10 apps. The player is really easy to navigate. For one thing, you can use the scrolling keys on your keyboard to move around, and the track and track time is visible in the upper-right corner. It is possible to pause, play and stop the files with a couple of buttons, and there are also a few buttons that bring up a menu. This is where you can switch from the video, audio, CD or playlist player. You can also add a note to the playlist and sort the tracks. Lastly, you can also search for new music and videos by simply entering the name. The best way to search for new files is to select the player and enter the desired term. Then, use the search button to start looking for other tracks with the same name. If you don't see any other results, try adding the wildcard at the end of the file name, as in "*".
